

Web of Maason

Web of Maason is a simple, elegant website designed to showcase my work and experience.

Simply put, the Web of Maason is a website created by none other than me. I've been working on the Web of Maason on and off for about a month now, and I think it's really come together. I've spent hours poring over HTML, CSS, and JavaScript files. I have meticulously edited and rearranged pictures for the headers and the gallery. I have delved through page after page of W3 Schools because I'm too lazy to remember how to change font colors in CSS (hint: it's just "color". You don't need to add font-color or type-color). All of this is done in hopes of impressing an employer enough to hire me. Oh, and getting a good grade on this final project. Can't forget that. I've definitely enjoyed my time in MI 349. The class has taught me a lot of what I consider applicable life skills.

Savannah the Employer

Savannah is the head of IT at a prestigious company.

George the Spartan

George is a fellow student at Michigan State University.

Dan the Founder

Dan is the founder of a small startup company.

Comps

www.msu.edu/~durlockb
www.linkedin.com
www.sashamakila.com/